DO IT THE EASY WAY...

A NEW INFORMATION SERVICE

The staff of the ERIC Clearinghouse for Counseling and Personnel Services is now able to offer you a bibliographic search service tailored to fit your individual research needs. Through an extensive, computerized information retrieval system, we can locate those documents and articles that will be most helpful to you.

SEARCHING THE LITERATURE

Traditionally, the process of seeking such materials has been done by hand. Countless costly hours have been spent sifting through indexes and catalogs for what was needed. Now, whether you require the answer to a specific question or an exhaustive search of the literature, we can do this work by computer, freeing you for more important tasks.

THE FILES

The ERIC System is a collection of over 230,000 documents, abstracts and journal citations from the field of education—many of which are unavailable from any other source. In addition to the ERIC Data Base, we can also search well over 40 other files for you, including Psychological Abstracts and Sociological Abstracts, thus making ours virtually a one-stop service. For some files, such as ERIC, many of the documents are immediately available to you on microfiche. In other files, the materials are as close as the nearest library.

WHAT HAPPENS

Working closely with you, a member of our staff will help you to develop a detailed statement of your research needs. This statement is then fed into the computer, which scans each of the files you choose, searching for the citations which match your requirements. A list of these citations, with accompanying abstracts, is then printed out for you in a permanent, easy to read format.

COSTS

Costs vary according to the data base you select for searching. For ERIC, the minimum cost is $15.00; the total cost depends on the amount of time spent searching the file and the number of citations found. The average search costs less than $20.00. Turn-around time, from the moment you request a search to the time you receive it, is normally under 10 days.

ANOTHER SERVICE

In addition to our regular search services, we also offer a quarterly update service on several topics of importance to counselors. These topics are:

- 1) Vocational Counseling and Occupational Guidance
- 2) Counselor Training, Supervision and Evaluation
- 3) Guidance and Counseling Programs
- 4) Counseling Effectiveness and Accountability

Every three months, we search the ERIC Data Base for pertinent resources on each subject. We send the results to each subscriber four times a year, in a convenient binder. The cost of this service is $25.00 per subject.

INTRODUCTION

How effective is group counseling for helping individuals with career exploration? How do you set up a needs assessment? What does research say about the impact of ethnic factors in counseling? Frequently we want dependable and rapid responses to these questions and others like them. Because an authoritative and practical resource is not always readily available, we often use the time-honored if not always satisfying approach of asking a knowledgeable person. Relying on knowledgeable peers is not all bad. It is usually quick, and we have a chance to interact. But we are never really sure just how comprehensive and accurate the information we receive will be. "Do I have all I need to know?" is a question that may leave a lingering doubt in our minds.

This volume, the Cumulative Index, is a complementary approach to usual information-seeking behaviors. It is a handy and easily usable compendium of resources that can help persons assess almost without effort what is available. More demanding users may find it valuable as a tool for trend and topical analysis. Casual users and exhaustive researchers alike will find it unique in helping them identify quickly a number of materials about a specific subject.

We earnestly hope that for many of you the Index will become a desktop retrieval system--that you will discover you are only an arm's length away from a bibliography that reaches back ten years and out to a multitude of ERIC documents having to do with counseling and guidance. Many times in jest you may have said, "I wish I had three arms." We think that the Index will give you that extra reach. If you come to use it the way we hope you will, you may very well come to think of it as your third arm.

HOW TO USE YOUR CUMULATIVE INDEX

The ERIC/CAPS Cumulative Index contains over 5500 titles from the ERIC collection, representing a full range of theoretical and practical information in all areas of counseling and guidance, as well as in drug abuse, aging, sexuality, and death.

The subject divisions used in the Cumulative Index are those developed by the ERIC System in the Thesaurus of ERIC Descriptors (available from Macmillan Information, 216R Brown Street, Riverside, New Jersey 08075, for $7.95). These subject terms, or descriptors, were chosen on the basis of their wide-spread use in the field of education; that is, the terminology used is most often the "natural language" of the information seeker. If you glance through the Cumulative Index, you will note that descriptors appear in bold-faced type, for example:

Counseling Effectiveness	Descriptor
Accountability and a Systems Approach to Marital Counseling in the University.
ED 654 639	Title
Accountability in Guidance. Searchlight: Relevant Resources in High Interest Areas. Retrospective Search 19R.
ED 106 747	Document Number
Alumni Rapback 1970-73: A Statistical Analysis of University College Alumni Opinion About the Counseling and Job Placement Service they Received While at School.

Following the bold-faced descriptors are the titles of the documents in alphabetical order along with the related ERIC Document Number for each title. In addition to the descriptors, a special class of subject terms, known as identifiers, has been created for certain concepts (names of test instruments, states, etc.) not included in the ERIC Thesaurus. The following are some examples of identifiers:

Achievement Anxiety Test
 ACT Interest Inventory
 Alaska

In a special Appendix at the back of this volume, you will find a listing of the ERIC descriptors used in the Cumulative Index, the Rotated Descriptor Display. In this section every descriptor is listed by each word comprising it, for example:

	Counseling		Teacher Educators
	Adult Counseling		Primacy Effect
	Behavioral Counseling		Effective Teaching
	Counseling Centers		Cost Effectiveness
Educational	Counseling		Counseling Effectiveness
	Counseling Effectiveness	→	Organizational Effectiveness
Elementary School	Counseling		Program Effectiveness
Family	Counseling		Integration Effects
			Radiation Effects
			Sound Effects
			Special Effects

To locate documents on a particular topic, look first in the Rotated Descriptor Display section under the various key words or concepts which describe your topic, until you have isolated the descriptors which you feel best represent your information need. In the above example, you would look under "Counseling Effectiveness" or simply "Effectiveness." In addition, you could also consider such terms as "Accountability."

Once you have found several applicable descriptors, the next step is to look under each descriptor for titles that appear to be suited to your particular problem. There is no separate listing for the identifiers--these can best be found by going directly to the specific test name or program name in which you are interested.

Following the title of each document you have selected will be an accession number (such as ED 106 747). Using the ED number, you can visit the ERIC collection in your area (a geographical list of ERIC collections follows the Rotated Descriptor Display at the back of this volume) and easily locate a particular document. If there is no collection near you, you can order most documents from the ERIC Document Reproduction Service (EDRS) in both paper (xerographic) copy and microfiche. We have included an order form at the end of this volume. By contacting EDRS you can determine the availability and cost of each document.

Simple, quick, easy. The Cumulative Index is a total library right at your desk. We hope you will consult it frequently.

APPENDIX A

THESAURUS OF
ERIC DESCRIPTORS

ROTATED DESCRIPTOR DISPLAY

INTRODUCTION

The Rotated Descriptor Display provides an alphabetical index to all significant words that form Descriptors in the Thesaurus. USE references are not included in this index.

A single-word term will file in only one location; a two-word term will file in two locations, and so on. Subfiling under any one file point is performed first on the basis of the words to the right of the file point and second, on the basis of the terms to the left of the file point. The word order within the Descriptor is not altered.

Example: PASS FAIL GRADING

FACULTY RECRUITMENT

FACULTY WORKLOAD

PASS FAIL GRADING

ACADEMIC FAILURE

FAILURE FACTORS

SECONDARY GRADES

GRADING

CREDIT NO CREDIT GRADING

GRADUATE MEDICAL EDUCATION

AUTO PARTS MEN

PASHTO

PASS FAIL GRADING

AUDIO PASSIVE LABORATORIES

PASTORAL LITERATURE

The Rotated Descriptor Display is useful in determining all usages of a particular word in the Thesaurus, without respect to its position in a phrase of a multiword Descriptor. The Display tends to group related terms where they may often be separated in the main alphabetical array, thus aiding indexers in performing more complete searches of the Thesaurus, search analysts in translating their inquiries into the language of the system, and subject analysts in structuring new Descriptors.
